Health Benefits of Green leafy vegetables

Chandra Kumar Singh, M.B.S. (Agro scientist) K.V.K. Tawang Arunachal Pradesh-791104

Nutritionist often recommended a regular consumption of green vegetables because they are abundant in various essential nutrients. You need to consume these nutrients in order to maintain the cardiovascular, skin, digestive and eye health.

1. Maintain Weak eye sight: - Nutritionists suggest green leafy do not treat weak eyesight, but they can help maintain their health. Apart from this, potassium is one of those minerals that function to strengthen the tissue present in your eyes.

2. Balance Cholesterol levels: - Processed foods are a primary cause of reaching high cholesterol levels. In this condition, cholesterol begins building up in the arteries and blood vessels that can cause stabilizing health problems such as stroke and heart attack. You can maintain these levels via consumption of fresh leafy greens regularly. The minerals and vitamins found in it, will help eliminate buildup and plague leaving your veins and arteries free of cholesterol.

3. Treats Anaemia: - Iron deficiency results in anaemia that is treatable that is treatable. However, you should not delay the treatment. In anaemia, sudden fatigue and dizziness are common and if not given the required amount of iron, the body cannot produce enough red blood cells.

4. Maintain Cardiovascular health: - Maintaining the cardiovascular health is not a tough nut to crack, you are only required to follow a healthy lifestyle including clean eating and exercise. You can incorporate various leafy greens vegetables to balance your heart health.

5. Boost Energy Levels: - Numerous factors contribute to low energy, dominators and fatigue. Nutrients deficiency could be one of them. Nutritionists suggest that you can eliminate deficiencies from green leafy vegetables due to the vitamins and minerals found in them.

DDG Recruitment (NE Zone) calls on the Governor

A concerted effort must be in place to ensure more and more youth of the State become part of the Indian Armed Forces: Governor

ITANAGAR, July 19:
Deputy Director General Recruitment (North East) Zone, Mohan Sharma called on the Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B.D. Mishra (Retd.) at Raj Bhavan, Itanagar on Monday. They discussed about optimizing the recruitment from the State. They also discussed about simplifying procedures so that maximum numbers of youth of Arunachal Pradesh can join the Indian Army.

The Governor emphasized that initiative must be taken by the State Government, particularly the Deputy Commissioners to reach out to the able youth in far-off areas of the State to participate in the Indian Army recruiting rallies. He also stressed on awareness campaigns to per rect the image of the Army. The Governor had initiated ‘Pay back to Society’ drive in the past for creating awareness about Indian Army. He said that interested youth must know the procedures and the details of physical tests in the recruitment process. This will help the prospective youth to prepare themselves to meet the required benchmarks, he said. A concerted effort must be in place to ensure more and more youth of the State become a part of Indian Armed Forces, the Governor underlined.

On the request of the Governor, the past, Indian Army Units stationed in various locations of Arunachal Pradesh have framed and assisted in filling up forms. They had provided lodging, lodging and also assisted in filing up the recruitment forms.

DOLUNG MUROH, July 23:
The District Health Society (DHS), Kamle organised a series of awareness campaigns on Japanese Encephalitis (JE) and RBTS screening at schools and Anganwadi centres across Dolumugh circle on Monday.

Leading the campaign, Dr. Puchigeko, Dr. Jullion Gongo kick started the campaign from AVI school at Meg ding. Upper Kamle area which covers Ligo, Linn, Rui, Nong, etc. is high risk area owing to the presence of vast paddy fields areas around. DHS, Kamle and Anganwadi workers RBTS team members and teachers took part in the awareness programmes.

Training on snake rescue and handling held

A three day comprehensive training program on Snake Rescue & Handling, organised by Hapoli Forest Division & Garry Martin Project, concluded here yesterday.

Anurag Singh, Forest Officer-In-Charge, Rijinpa, while sharing the objectives of the program said that snakes are lesser understood species and therefore one of the most feared creatures. She said it was necessary that we improve the understanding and perception about snakes and also how to handle them in given situation.

Renowned herpetologist, Gerard Navin Martin covered aspects of Snake behaviour, Identification, Ecological Importance, Human-snake conflict, Snake bite treatment and rescue protocol. Range Forest Officer/In-Charge Rijinpa accompanied by his rescue team from Paise Tiger Reserve shared about the local experiences of rescuing snakes.

The program was also attended by 50 participants including Forest officers and Forest officials from DNGO, Forest Officer & General public. The three day work shop was concluded with both theory and field exercises at Hatsela-Tangi and Ranga camp in Tale Village Sanctu ary.
