World Photography Day

August 19 is observed as World Photography Day, which aims to inspire photographers across the planet to share a single photo with a simple purpose: to share their world with the world. Here is a look at photography over the years.

World Photo Day originates from the invention of Daguerreotype, a photographic process developed by Frenchmen Louis Daguerre and Joseph Nicéphore Niepce in 1837.

On January 9, 1839, the French Academy of Sciences announced the Daguerreotype process. On August 19, the French government purchased the patent and announced the invention as a gift “free to the world”.

The Daguerreotype wasn’t the first permanent photographic image. In 1826, Niepce captured the earliest known permanent photograph as “View from the Window at Le Gras” using a process called heliography.

The first durable colour photograph was taken by Thomas Sutton in 1861. It was a set of three black-and-white photographs taken through red, green and white photographs taken through red, green and white filters. However, the photographic emulsions then in use were insensitive to the spectrum, so the result was very imperfect and the demonstration was soon forgotten.

On August 19, 2010 World Photo Day hosted its first global online gallery. Almost 270 photographers shared their pictures and people from over 100 countries visited the website. This marked the first official, globally reaching World Photo Day.

As early as 1839, a selfie was clicked by American Robert Cornelius. Cornelius set his camera up, took the image by removing the lens cap and then running into frame. On the back he wrote “The first light picture ever taken 1839”.

The first digital photograph was taken in 1957; almost 20 years before Kodak’s engineer invented the first digital camera. The photo is a digital scan of a shot initially taken on film which depicts Russell Kirsch’s son and has a resolution of 176×176.

The Government launched the ambitious Chief Minister’s Arogya Arunachal Yojana (CAAAY) for providing health insurance coverage for a family upto Rs. 5 lakhs per year for secondary and tertiary care hospitalization which are not covered under ATUVAAN/AH scheme of Government of India.

The Government is proposing to establish its own State University at Pasighat for which necessary fund has been kept. The permanent academic building of the first Women Government College B. Y. Government Women College, Pasighat is going to be constructed in Poma village near Itanagar this year.

The Government decided to provide uninterrupted power supply to the Secondary and Higher secondary schools in the State through liquidation of diesel and LPG tanks is all the secondary and higher secondary schools of the State.

In our endeavor to achieve doubling of farmers income by 2022 and raise the contribution of agriculture sector to national GDP, we are investing heavily in agriculture and allied sectors.

We have increased the funding in CM Sanikit Kisan Yojana to Rs. 95 crore with specific focus on cash crops. Hon’ble Prime Minister has set up a High-powered Committee of Chief Ministers for Transformation of Indian Agriculture in which the Chief Minister of Arunachal Pradesh is the only member from the north-eastern states. This is a clear indication of the emphasis placed by Government of India to the interests of Arunachal Pradesh and North-East at large.

We also plan to bring 7 lakh hectares more land under micro irrigation in near future with an estimated cost of Rs. 11.712 crore under Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchayee Yojana. In this regard, we have submitted the plan to Government of India. We are expecting around 500 crore this year under the scheme. To harness the tourism potential of the State, instilling professionalism at the cutting edge level is the need of the hour. In this direction, we have decided to sponsor students of the state for taking up 3 years degree courses in prestigious institutes recognized by the Ministry of Tourism, Govt of India under Chief Minister’s Pasyam Kshethra Yojana. Various White Water Guide Training Centres (Aqua Adventure Centre) in various major river basins (Kameng, Siang, Dhongri, Loyi and Subansiri) of Arunachal Pradesh are also being taken up to supplement the tourism needs of the state by providing professional hands in handling rafting related activities.

To create an integrated framework of tourism promotion involving Tour Operators, Home Stays, Tourist Guides, Tourist Information Centres and Creation of Eco Tourism Infrastructure in each district, we have established District Tourism Societies headed by the Deputy Commissioner.

In the Transport Sector, APST received national recognition and was awarded National Public Transport Excellence Award for the best performing North East State Road Transport Undertaking for the first time after 43 years. In a move to improve passenger services, APSTS introduced 3 Mahindra Xylo Taxis to in service recently.

Road connectivity is the most important factor in bringing development to the state and we have a huge backlog in road communication infrastructure. Therefore, we have initiated to bring reformation in the process of planning and development of all roads under PHED, under a five year road plan as “The Chief Minister’s comprehensive State Road Plan 2019-2024”.

The Chief Minister while dwelling at length on the initiative of the government urged all to work sincerely and honestly for all round development of the State. He appealed the youth of the State to eschew violence and utilise their youthful energy towards conceptional purposes. He further highlighted the achievements of the government and also the challenges ahead.

Earlier, Khandu ceremonially unfurled the national tricolour and later took national salute and inspected a combined guard of honour presented by various contingents. The Chief Secretary announced the state awards on the occasion.

March past, PT display and presentation of cultural programmes by students representing various schools and other establishments, exhibition stalls and other attractive programmes marked the day-long celebrations.

The Honourable Governors, Ministers, MLA’s, Commissioners, Secretaries, DC, Capital, DGP and WHO’S WHO of the state government attended the function.
Narendra Kumar takes over the charge of Chief Secretary

TIRANGA, August 13: Narendra Kumar has taken over the charge of Chief Secretary, Government of Assam, replacing Satyajit Debbarma, who has been posted as Chief Secretary, Tourism.

Prior to joining Assam, Narendra Kumar was the Chairperson of New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC).
